2014 Great Texas Warrant Roundup

FRISCO, TX – The Frisco Police Department and Frisco Municipal Court will once again participate in the annual Great Texas Warrant Round-up for the eighth consecutive year that begins March 1, 2014. The court began sending out courtesy post cards on Friday, February 14, 2013. Clerks with the Frisco Municipal Court begin the round-up Saturday morning, March 1, 2014, by placing phone calls and automated phone calls to individuals with outstanding warrants and providing them an opportunity to pay for their warrants over the telephone or appear in person to post bonds.

Cities across Texas will be joining together to actively serve outstanding arrest warrants beginning March 1, 2014. While warrants are regularly served by each jurisdiction, this combined effort provides greater opportunities for warrant service. If you have outstanding warrants anywhere in Texas, you should handle them as soon as possible or face the possibility of having police officers arrive at your workplace or residence. The City of Frisco will be assigning a group of officers to a special task force with the sole task of tracking down individuals with outstanding Frisco warrants and bringing them to justice.

If you believe you have unpaid tickets or an active warrant out of the City of Frisco, you can contact the Frisco Municipal Court at 972.292.5555 or pay for your warrant online at www.friscotexas.gov/courtpayments today before you are greeted by a Frisco police officer at your front door or place of employment.
